

Strategic Information Technology Advisory and IT Audit & Assurance

Eyes on the prize

You're an executive. You need real-time information that is reliable, accurate, and properly safeguarded in order to make decisions and actively manage your business. SL Business Informatics (SLBI) partners with our clients to deliver strategically-sound, scalable information and systems environments that support the executives, the business and their forward-looking plans. We don't sell software.

Our team – ready for you

We bring executive IT, financial and broader leadership experience to help you tackle systems risks, challenges, and oversee vendor and IT team execution. We also bring IT Auditing and Cybersecurity acumen to help with regulatory and vitally important regulatory compliance and protection.
